The Man from the Rear Car.

A couple were occupying a middle seat in the ladies' car, having got on at a way station. Probably attracted by the in-visible fascination which never fails to visible fascination which never fails to bring about a contretemps, a gentleman from a rear car came in and took a seat immediately behind the pair. There was a shock of surprise as his eyes first fell upon them, and a deathly pallor overspread his countenance. But this was an instant only. Then a flush succeeded, and a queer smile began playing around the corners of his set, determined lips. An hour passed. The billing and cooling went on, and the man was a patient and evidently an interesting listener. The evidently an interesting listener. The people in the car began to perceive that something unusual was going on. Fi-nally the man leaned foward, with that peculiar smile still hovering about his ips, and said:
"I beg pardon, but you seem to be enjoying yourselves immensely."

The lady rose with a stifled scream, and wheeling around confronted the stranger with a pallid face and great staring eyes. Her companion was no less disconcerted. He, too, had risen to his feet, and stood uneasily looking at the intruder, flushing and paling by

"Well, it's not unusual. People often meet under peculiar circumstances. I suppose you are on your bridal tour?"

The lady covered her face with her hands and sank back into her seat. She had already begun to sob hysterically.
"I happened along this way by mere chance," continued the stranger. "I am going West to Leadville. I thought I would try and do something for the children, inasmuch as you have left us. But I trust you will not let this accidental meeting disturb your enjoyment. The woman was moaning in abject

Pet volders.

Chambers Journal.]
As spiders are for the most part ban-ished from every room where they are likely to hear music, opportunities are very seldom afforded of witnessing their behavior under its influence, but oc-casionally people are met with who do not share the general antipathy to these interesting and ill-used little creatures. A few years ago the writer had a converation about spiders with the waiter at Messrs, Boffin's well-known dining-rooms in Oxford. This man had a pet spider which lived in the sitting-room of a bis home, and he could always induce it to come out of its hole by whistling. The little creature's web was carefully pre-served from injury, and at the time than this interesting circumstance was related to the writer, the spider was regarded as the pet of the family. Similiar cases might perhaps be furnished by observant lovers of the animal world, but unfortunately very few people seem to be aware of the spider's partiality for music If experiments were made with different kinds of instruments by skilled musi kinds of instruments by skilled musi-cians, it is extremely probable that very interesting results might be obtained.

The Land of Midian,

[Bocciator.]
The words "Midian" and "Midianites" are, of course, familiar to every reader of the Bible; even the little school-girl knows that it was to merchants of this nation—Ishmaelites—that Joseph was sold. But we doubt whether many persons who are not advanced geographical students have at all a clear idea of the situation of this country, and still more, whether they know that it was in very ancient times resorted to by the Egyptians for gold and copper and for the highly prized "blue-green stones"—i. c., turquoises. Midian, the Madyan of the Arab geographers, is that part of the Arabian desert which lies to the east of the northern portion of the Red Sea, a nar-row strip of country extending length-wise from the head of the Gulf of Akawas from the head on the character and mountainous, and although under the dominion of Egypt, is still in the possession of the children of Ishmael, the wandering Bedouin.

CARBOLINE.

Deodorized Extract of Petroleus as now

IMPROVED AND PERFECTED,

A beolutely the Only Article that will Resto Hair on Bald Heads, and Cure ait Dis-eases of the Skin and Scalp.

What the World has been Wanting for Centuries.

The greatest discovery of our day, so far as a large portion of humanity is concerned, is Carboine, an article prepared from Petroleum, and which effects a complete and radical cure in cases of baldness, or where the hair, owing to disease of he scalp, has become thin and tends to fall out it is also a speedy restorative, and while its use secures a luxuriant growth of hair, it also brings back the natural color and gives the most complets satisfaction in the using. The failing out of the hair, the accumulations of dandruff and the premature change in color, are all evidences of a diseased condition of the scalp and the glands which nourish the hair. To arrest these causes the article used must possess medical as well as chemical virtues, and the change must begin under the aculy to be of permanent and lasting benefit such an article is Carboine, and like many other wonderful discoveries it is found to consist of elements almost in their natural state. Petroleum oil is the article which is made to work such extraordinary results, but it is after it has been chemically treated and comiletely decolorized that it is in proper contition for the toilet. It was in far off Russia that the effect of petroleum upon the lusir was first observed. letely decodorized that it is in proper contition for the toilet. It was in far off Russia that the effect of petroleum upon the half was first observed, a Government officer having noticed that a partially half beaded servant of his, when trimming the lamps, he'l a habit of wiping his oilbestneared hands in his scanty locks, and the result was in a few months a much finer bead of black, glossy hair than he ever had before. The oil was tried on horses and cattle that had took their hair from the cattle plague, and the results were as rapid as they were narvelous. The manes and even the balls of horses, which had fallen out were completely restored in a few weeks. These experiments were heralied to the world, but the knowledge was practically useless to the prematurely half and gary, as no one in civilized society could tolerate the use of refined petroleum as a dressing for the half. But the skill of one of our own chemists has overcome the difficulty, and by a process known only to himself he has, after very elaborate and couly experiments, successed in redocting petroleum, while renders it an explications and with the decoderized liquid on the human hair were attended with the most assortions the scale of the half, and and and the first or second dressing and the liquid, so scarching in its nature, weathin and falling gave remarkable tone and vigor to the scale and hair. Every partiel of landruff disappears on the first or second dressing and the liquid, so scarching in its nature, were to penetrate to the roots at once, and set parallel change from the start. It is well known that the most heautiful means made from another the suce of this article gradually impart a An ordinance (No. 225) to establish the grade of Beech street.

Be IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF the Village of Avondale, two-thirds of all the members concurring, that the grade of Beech street be as follows:

Section I. Beginning at the intersection of the north curb of Shillito street with the west curb of the north curb of Shillito street with the west curb of Beech street, at the level of 220.17, thence seconding along the west curb of Beech street at a grade of 2 feet per 100 for a distance of 500 feet to the level of 323.17; thence descending at a grade of 72 rer 100, for 16 feet to the level of 3 feet per 100 at 327. feet to the level of 120.

Section 2. Any and all grades heretofore established by ordinance inconsistent herewith be and the same are largeby repealed. that the most beautiful earlier are made from petroleum, and by some mysterious operation of nature the use of this article gradually imparts a beautiful light brown color to the hair, which, by continued use, deepens to a black. The color remains permanent for an indefinite length of time, and the change is so gradual that the most infimate friends on scarcely detect its progress. In a word, it is the most wonderful discovery of the age, and well calculated to make the prematurally haid and gray rejoice.

We advise our readers to give it a trial, feeting satisfied that one application will convince them sof its wonderful effects.—[Pittburg Commercial of October 22, 1877. Attest: Flames Ball., Jm., Corporation Cierz.

CHAS. LANGUEY & CO., SAN FRANCISCO:
DEAR SIRE: I take great pleasure in informing you of the most gratifying results of the use of rou of the most gratifying results of the use of CARBOLINE in my own case. For three years the top of my head has been completely baid and smooth, and I had quite given up any hope of restoring the hair. Four weeks ago I noticed the advertisement of CARBOLINE, and on the recommendation of a friend concluded to try a bottle. I have now used it less than a month, and to my most agreeable astonishment my nead is completely covered with a five, short, heality growing a darty which has every appearance of continued erowit; and I conditionly believe it will restore it as completely as ever it was in my youth. I take gree pleasure in offering you this testimonial and you have my permission to publish the same. CHAS, E. WHITE, Davisville, Cal.
